Note: Use the pieces above as inspiration!

Instructions

Step 1: Go through magazines, and pick out a picture with a person in an interesting position. Choose one that you will use for this project, and tear out the whole page.

Step 2: Take three papers with different colors, and put the magazine page on top. Paper clip on all four sides.

Step 3: Cut the magazine figure out like you would a paper doll with the papers stacked on top of one another. This way you will cut three exact copies of that magazine photo at the same time. Set aside.

Step 4: From the scraps (or use additional paper if you need it) cut out three each of the following: large squares, small squares, triangles, and rectangles (or other shapes of your choice— just make sure there are three of each).

Step 6: Arrange and glue the twelve shapes in an interesting way on a piece of black paper. Overlapping will make your piece more interesting!

Step 7: Finally, glue the three shapes from Step 3 onto the composition. Once again be sure to overlap. Use diagonal or curved movement from the arrangement of the three shapes.
